Old Homestead Records Proudly Presents

Ken Scoggins & MILLER'S CREEK

"They feature smooth harmonies and solid picking in a program rich with strong material. This is a relatively new band that should offer a lot in the future..." Bluegrass Unlimited Magazine

Ken Scoggins is a veteran bluegrass singer from Rock Hill, SC, who's playing and singing style is reminiscent of first generation bluegrass performers. Once you hear him sing the first line, you know you have found something special. Ken has traveled extensively throughout the U.S. over the last 10 years, performing for receptive crowds at many of the nation's larger bluegrass venues with Miller's Creek, a band he and three friends formed in 1997. Ken, the only remaining founding member, now fronts a band he calls the strongest of his 13 years on the road—carrying on the Miller's Creek tradition.

The Miller's Creek Band -

Doug Rankin, from Mountain Rest, SC, plays mandolin and sings multiple harmony parts. 2010 will be Doug's seventh season with Ken and has become a Miller's Creek mainstay.

Bill Scoggins, Ken's brother, re-joined the band in Apr '08 after having spent three years as one of Raymond Fairchild's Maggie Valley Valley Boys. Bill's strong vocals and his '41 Kay bass fiddle solidify the traditional, professional sound.

Joe Coffey makes his home in Powder Springs, Ga. He joined the band in Dec '08 on banjo and sings multiple harmony parts. Joe's exceptionally clean, smooth sound fits the band perfectly.
